Summary

My name is Camila Fernandez, I'm currently studying Full Stack Web Development at SMU Boot Camp, I love to solve problems and going the extra mile in order to succeed. I used to be a Medical Assistant in Pediatrics, but I decided to change careers because being able to build a website in order to help people find what they are looking for or even solving little things help me feel important.

I currently live in Rhome, Tx with my husband and two daughters. Life is busy, but I love spending it with my family and learning new skills and tools in order to keep on building my career; for example, studying new tools, exploring new rules, and taking specific classes.
